CATNEY NEWS

2016

Dear Villagers,

We have had several seasons in April. Warm sunshine, gentle breezes, high winds, heavy rain, sleet and snow.

But despite this, the trees are wearing fresh green and may blossom blows across our gardens at the slightest excuse and our hearts are lifted with the promise of the summer that is to come. The days are almost here that will be our fond memories, that will keep our thoughts warm through winter.

Are you a poet? Could you write a poem about Catney Village? Catney past, present or future? Catney through the seasons? We would love to receive your poems and print the best in the News. No bad language or subjects unsuitable for family reading please!.

CATNEY EVENTS

Sunday 12th June

12:00 onwards

Your family and friends are cordially invited to the Catherine de Barnes garden party in the grounds of the village hall to celebrate the Queen's 90th birthday.

How does it work?

It's simple. Invite your family and friends, create a feast of food for your party to enjoy on the day and join the other villagers on Sunday the 12th of June for one big picnic-party to mark this national event!

Whether you're a Royalist or not, bring your Sunday lunch outside for the day and join the rest of the village for a bit of fun in the sunshine (fingers crossed).

- There's no charge for attending
- Tables and chairs will be available, or you can bring your own picnic blankets/furniture
- Ice-creams will be on sale for the kids
- Licenced bar for the adults.

What else is going on?

Kids' games

Games will be organised throughout the afternoon to keep the kids entertained. Think sack-races, and silly contests and you won't be far off!

Crown Contest

If you've always suspected that you have royal blood and should be treated like a king or queen, then here's your chance to wear a crown for the day without being treated like the village idiot. Create your own crown for the event and you might be in for a prize. Not just for the kids either! It's only fair that every member of your family gets their own!

What's next?

Birmingham Airport

At last the CAA announced their decision relating to the Airports Airspace Proposal. Broadly, they supported the Airports proposed Option 6 as a permanent flight path for aircraft departing of to the south of the airport. However the Airport company were instructed to run further trials of Option 5 for all non-jet aircraft departing south with a view to try and minimise still further noise to Barston and areas of Balsall Common. These plans for these trials will be prepared shortly and the Airport Company have decided to invite community representatives from both areas to participate in any discussions with the CAA pertaining to Option 5 trials. VILLAGE HALL UPDATE

Following the urgent boiler repairs last month tenders are out for the building works shown in last month's CN and we are also in the process of submitting bids for a grant to finance the works . You may have noticed some radical surgery has been undertaken in cutting back the vegetation at the side of the kitchen and the gable end has had some paint. Bookings are healthy and the Hall is now in a positive financial position in terms of day to day running costs. Hall Trustees

Follow us on Twitter

@CatneyResAssoc and the Village Hall is @catney_hall

After our excellent Social Media training in March, I am still not convinced that Twitter will be something I will look at daily and I certainly won't be "following" celebrities. But there is some useful information to be found if you follow organisations such as Solihull Updates, Solihull Council or Solihull Observer.

It could also be a powerful way to set up a local campaign if one is needed – but we need many "followers" to make that work.

If you want to give it a try, it is very simple to sign in to Twitter. Either ask the kids/grandkids OR:

Search for www.twitter.com

Choose the sign up option

Give a name and your email address

You will have to give a mobile phone number

Make sure you choose the highest level of privacy settings and there should be no risk to your personal information.

Then choose who to “follow”.

And that’s it!

BOOK REVIEW by John Alderton

CAREER OF EVIL

A novel by Robert Galbraith.

This is the third novel by J K Rowling writing as Robert Galbraith, featuring the large, rather dishevelled and partially disabled detective, Cormoran Strike. It is a story with a fair bit of violence and grisly detail, but is also a physiological thriller, which I think makes it the best of the three.

Robin Ellacott, Strikes secretary receives a gruesome package containing a severed leg, which Strike realises is an attempt to destroy him and his business and also recognises that there are three possible suspects all capable of such an atrocity. But which is it?

This is a fast moving thriller with the characters, and their thinking, being very well explored leaving the reader unsure on one or two counts until the very end. The author also allows us to learn more about Robin and the strange relationship between Robin, her fiancé Mathew and of course Strike. We are also offered a little more detail of their personal histories, which all bodes well I think for a least one Strike novel a year.

It all makes for a very good tale: but then I am a fan.

YOUR LETTERS

Dear Editor,

I went to the school at the village hall, when I went there in approx 1953 I had the same teacher Mrs Hammond who had taught my father George Parker and his brothers and Sisters when they were at the school, I went to Lode Heath at 11 in approx 1958, then moved to Coventry. I lived in Bickenhill Lane and the shed in our garden was supposed to have been a button factory. Can anyone tell me anything about this?.

Editor's note: We published an article some time ago which gave details of the Button Factory. I will search for it and put it in the next Catney News. But more information is very welcome.

Where to take the children without travelling far :

Sheldon Country Park

Off Church Road, Sheldon, behind St. Giles Church.

Situated on the very edge of the city, the land has escaped development and has become a haven for wildlife.

The Parks Ranger Service is based at Old Rectory Farm, a 17th Century dairy farm, which is situated on the main entrance to the park.

Old Rectory Farm has been fully restored and operates as a demonstration farm, showing city dwellers traditional methods of farming. animals kept at the farm include Jersey cattle, pigs, goats, ponies, ducks, chickens and geese.

The farm is open to visitors every day throughout the year and admission is free.

There is also a children's playground, picnic areas and a cafe.

Haystacks Play Barn

Dunstan Farm, Old Damson Lane, Solihull

Haystacks Play Barn is a small but fun activity centre that is located only 5 minutes away from Birmingham International Airport, so it is within easy reach from a number of areas.

There are a number of different activities to keep the kids amused here, including a farm themed play frame, enclosed in safety netting, which has different challenges to negotiate.

Lots of squishy colourful fun, with some interactive noises thrown in too! There is even a smaller play frame for the little ones.

During term time, the centre offers different Activity Mornings Monday to Friday, which include 'Create and Play' on Tuesdays and Play Doh Play Day on Thursdays. All the activity mornings are included in the admission price, except for Mondays.

They also have 2 different party packages, one for kids aged between 1 and 3 years old, the other for kids aged between 4 and 8 years old. You have the option of renting the whole venue privately for the parties too
